Allowable Subject Matter

3. This office action is in response to the communication dated 4/30/2008 with the amendments to claims 1-3, 5, 8, 10, 12, 14-16, 23, 25-27, 29, 32, 34, 36, 38-40, 47, 50 and 52 and the cancellation of claims 22, 46, 48-49 and 51.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

The present invention is directed to securely accessing a remote server or other device via a publicly accessible communication network. Virtual private networks (VPNs) have been implemented to assist computer users when remotely accessing a computer over a publicly accessible network. According to the invention, the deployment of VPN client security policies, profiles and certificates to large numbers of authorized remote access users is easily facilitated. This is especially important when the remote users access a corporate (or other entity) computer via mobile handheld devices, because these small mobile devices are easily lost, have limited capabilities by comparison to a PC or laptop computer, so the ease of deployment is critical (Spec:

0006). In particular, the present invention with the recited unique features of validating and storing a returned certificates includes requiring input of multiple characters from a user of the wireless device, wherein the multiple characters are a portion of an identifier for the certificate corresponding to one of the one or more remotely located devices (claims 1 and 25). The closest prior arts fail to anticipate or render the above limitations obvious.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
